

STRATHCONA NORDICS

SOCIAL MEDIA AND SOCIAL NETWORKING POLICY

A. Introduction

Strathcona Nordics Ski Club (SNSC) recognizes that social media can be used for organizational purposes to increase communication between and among its Members and partners and advance the promotion and positive profile of our love of skiing, our programs, sport and activities and our athletes to a large audience.

SNSC actively encourages and supports our members to take part in social media to share their experiences. Members are one of our best sources of social media content and act as ambassadors for our club and our sport. As coaches, officials, athletes, staff, Members and Board of Directors, it is also a great opportunity to raise the profile of our club activities and programs and the accomplishments of our athletes.

SNSC also recognizes the importance of online conversation and respects the right to freedom of speech and the use of social media for personal purposes.

SNSC is committed to a club environment that supports responsible and respectful use of social media by its athletes, coaches, officials, volunteers, staff, Members and Board of Directors. All postings made to social media are treated as 'public,' comparable to comments or actions in a public forum or in front of a camera or microphone.

This policy describes SNSCs commitment to using social media responsibly.

B. Policy Details

1. Scope

This policy applies to all employees, directors, coaches, athletes, officials, volunteers and Members of SNSC. It applies to online behaviour when serving as a representative of SNSC and when participating as a sole individual.

The policy refers to use of a broad sweep of online activity including, but not limited to, social, professional and multi-media networks and live-blogging tools. It includes posts, shares and tweets initiated by an individual, as well as re-tweeting or reposting someone else's comment(s) to one's own social media account.

Organizations and individuals are frequently re-learning that posting something on social media ensures the near-permanent existence of that material. A tweet posted six months ago can be easily found by an intrepid researcher. A picture that is posted on Facebook never really goes away. These reasons underscore why we need to be especially careful about our social media use.

Today, social media is no longer limited to blogs and social networking sites. You have participated in social media if you have:

- Posted a comment on a blog
- Posted a review or rated a product
- Tweeted anything
- Participated in an online poll
- Posted a status update on Facebook
- Created a LinkedIn Profile
- Uploaded a video to YouTube or Vimeo
- Shared an image on Flickr
- Shared your location on Foursquare or the like

This policy covers social media messaging and actions that fall within SNSC's organizational jurisdiction and includes, but is not restricted to, protection of individuals, our brand, our sport profile, and relationships with our sponsors and funding partners.

2. Standard of Conduct – Messaging

SNSC endorses a high standard of behaviour when using social media and does not condone any messages that:

- May constitute harassment, discrimination or violence;
- Are hurtful, malicious, degrading or otherwise offensive to an individual or group of individuals;
- Refer to controversial or potentially inflammatory subjects including politics, sex, and religion;
- Are damaging to our brand and/ or relationships with our stakeholders and funding partners;
- Divulge confidential or proprietary information that belongs to SNSC; and/or
- Fail to respect the privacy of others by disclosing personal information without requisite consent.

3. Standard of Conduct – Posting

Only delegated staff, program coordinators, and directors, designated by the board of directors, may post on the official social media sites of SNSC unless written permission is given by SNSC.

Permissions will be managed by the SNSC communications director.

All official inquiries about SNSC must be answered through SNSC's official communication platforms. An individual directly receiving requests from others (e.g., a journalist) regarding issues relevant to SNSC are to contact the Communications Director Coordinator and/or Club President prior to responding and in order to frame an appropriate response, as required.

Messages posted on personal online sites cannot be attributed to SNSC and must not appear to be endorsed by or originated from SNSC.

4. Imposing Disciplinary Sanctions

An individual that uses social media irresponsibly or disrespectfully in a manner that may bring SNSC into disrepute and/or is contrary to the standards of conduct for messaging and posting set above will be subject to discipline. Indiscretions through social media are subject to the same discipline if an individual made similar damaging comments or actions in a public forum or in front of a camera or microphone.

Disciplinary sanctions will reflect the severity of the infraction. Minor infractions are single, largely unintentional breaches of this policy that generally do not result in harm to individuals and/or SNSC. Major infractions are either single breaches of significance or repeated multiple breaches which violate SNSC's Code of Conduct and Ethics Policy and that result, or have the potential to result, in harm to individuals and/or SNSC.

Disciplinary sanctions for minor infractions may include the following:

- Immediate removal and retraction of messages in question;
- Verbal or written reprimands;
- A verbal or written apology; and/or
- Any other similar sanction considered appropriate relative to the breach. Disciplinary sanctions for major infractions correspond to those in CCBC's Code of Conduct and Ethics Policy and may include the following:

- Immediate removal and retraction of messages in question;
- Formal, written notification of the nature of the violation against the Code of Conduct and Ethics Policy;
- Verbal or written apologies;
- Written reprimand;
- Probation or suspension;
- Monetary fine or payment of costs; and/or
- Any other sanction considered appropriate relative to the seriousness of the breach.

Any individual may appeal the decision and disciplinary sanctions by following the Dispute Resolution and Appeals Policy established by SNSC.

Disciplinary sanctions imposed internally by SNSC do not preclude legal action that may be taken against an individual using social media irresponsibly.
